

EXTRAORDINARY NIGHTS SINCE 500 B.C.

POMPEI FESTIVAL

After the great success of the first edition of the Pompei Festival, with the Opera La Boheme, starring the world-famous tenor Vittorio Grigolo, and the ballet Carmen, and after resonance the event is having on international televisions, the great Opera is back at Teatro Grande degli Scavi in Pompei for a new extraordinary and spectacular summer.

In 2015, the Festival is going to present three popular operas - La Traviata, Tosca and Nabucco -, three ballets - Giselle, Swan Lake and Carmen Suite - a festival dedicated to China - with two Chinese operas, directed by Zhang Yimou - and the three-act opera "The last Day of Pompeii" by Giovanni Pacini. As in the past season there will be the participation of international stars also flanked by young people starting their careers and participation of great national and foreign orchestras. The art direction is entrusted to Maestro Alberto Veronesi.
